In the same way, the Enterprise develops actions for the promotion of the different themes, addressed by the titles that make up our book inventories; aimed at all ages, especially children and young people, contributing, together with other institutions, to the integral development of culture and knowledge of our society.

The Enterprise has several ways to promote and disseminate, not only the books, but also the complex of activities; that they develop based on their work objectives; through institutions, such as a network of 22 bookstores dedicated to these purposes.
